Boston, Sept. 5.—The United Fruit Company announced officially this afternoon that it would register its twenty-five vessels of 117,000 tons under the American flag.

The crude oil shipments from Tampico to the United States (including one shipment to Porto Rico) amounted to 1,118,570 barrels in the first quarter of 1912, in contrast with a total of 86,916 barrels during the entire calendar year 1911.

What to Buy When Going Shopping Along Auto Row

For the boy from three to five years, it is now quite the thing to have a little "David Copperfield" suit in linen or warmer material. Brown trousers, tan blouse, brown cap, tan shoes and socks, and a long belted beach coat, make a very pretty suit.

Wicker bottle cases in all sizes have been popular all summer as they are light, strong, and make safe carriers.

Raglan model motor coats for women made of Motora silk, Cortez crepe or silk mohair, are quite pretty, durable and easy to clean.

A small leather case for pocket use has a tooth brush, small tube of powder and a small comb.

Enameled duck pouch carryalls have more pockets in this fall than ever before. They are favored companions on long trips, when meals are to be taken by the wayside.

There is now a new, soft, round dressing bag with loose rack, holding various materials. The glass in the bottom comes out.

Two new veils have made their appearance for fall use. One is a silk striped chiffon with half of the width plain white, so that the stripes do not interfere with the vision. Another is a Shetland finished chiffon, with half the width of the plain white Shetland weave. Both may be had in popular color combinations.

PARADE WITH RUSSIAN CANNON IN BERLIN

Kaiser's Troops Celebrate Sedan Day by Displaying Trophies Taken in Recent Battle.

Berlin (via Copenhagen and London), Sept. 5 (delayed in transmission).—The celebration of Sedan Day in this city was marked by one of the greatest outbursts of patriotic enthusiasm ever witnessed here. The day was glorious, and probably 20,000 visitors poured in from nearby towns to participate in the fête marking the forty-fourth anniversary of the surrender of Napoleon III.

The feature of the celebration was a parade in which cannon captured from the Russians were drawn through Unter den Linden by horses captured from the Russian artillery corps. This procession was led by the Oesterle battalion of the Landwehr. A flag staff captured from the Russians was borne by a member of the battalion, but it bore no banner. The Russians had torn their standard to pieces when they saw its capture was inevitable.

A detachment to the Tagelblatt states that the following prisoners are now in the hands of the Germans: French, 23 officers and 15,000 men; Russian, 70 officers and 10,000 men; Belgians, 12,000 men.

Guy Says Session Will Bring 75,000 Visitors and Is "Big Boost" for Washington.

Business men of Washington are enthusiastic at the prospect of the G. A. R. encampment to be held here next year. Added encouragement was obtained from the prediction of many veterans that future encampments will be held here to the exclusion of other cities.

R. W. Guy, chairman of the joint committee of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants' Association, to obtain the convention, said last night that he is jubilant over the decision.

"It was good news," said Mr. Guy. "We sent joint invitations from all commercial organizations of the city through the Commissioners, and guaranteed sufficient funds to entertain and carry on the general business. There will be between 50,000 and 75,000 visitors to the convention, and they will be here for a week. "It is a big boost for Washington."
